U. S. READY FOR INJUNCTION FRAY AGAINST UNIONS

Government Has Two Carloads of Evidence at Hand to Present Federal Court.

fray of government counsel will be Donald R. Richberg, a young Chicago attorney and personal counsel of R. M. Jewell, head of the shop craft. Mr. Jewell himself and John Scott, secretary-treasurer of the organization, were also expected to be in court. Government agents indicated that if the two union leaders appeared they might be called to the witness stand and grilled by the government.

May Summon Union Leaders

Another plan, to subpoena every one of the 240 union leaders named in the temporary injunction and place them on the stand was being discussed tonight by the government representatives. It was indicated that no definite decision on this procedure had been reached and it was indicated that if carried into effect it would prolong the hearing for many weeks.

While a corps of federal agents were sorting over the government's evidence for the court hearing which is scheduled to open at 10:30 in the morning, union leaders from all parts of the country were arriving for a meeting of the shop craft policy committee of ninety which had been set to begin in an outlying hotel a half hour earlier. The call for the meeting of the policy committee, which alone is empowered to act on any peace proposals, was sent out by Mr. Jewell last week following his return from the east where he was reported to have had conferences with several railway executives. Shortly after his return a meeting of officials representing some thirty railroads was held in Chicago but adjourned without making any public announcement.

Cost Men Over $1,000,000

At the beginning of its eleventh week, the strike was estimated to have cost the men who walked out on July 1, more than $1,000,000 in lost wages. It was called following a decision of the United States Railroad Labor Board cutting the wages of the shop crafts employees approximately $50,000,000 a year.

HOPELESSLY BEATEN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 10.—(By A. P.)—The Greeks have lost the battle around Smyrna and the Greek administration ceased in Ionia last night. All the members of the high commission, headed by M. Stergiadis are on board the British battleship Iron Duke.

The Greek army has been hopelessly beaten. The occupation of Smyrna is expected tonight or Sunday.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish nationalist leader, has established headquarters in Kassaia, he has invited the allied and American consuls to proceed there with the purpose of arranging the taking over of the city with a minimum of disorder. The meeting was fixed for 2 o'clock this afternoon in Kassaia. Hostilities ceased today. Nazilli, Aidin and other towns were burned. The greatest of confusion reigns in Smyrna. A wireless dispatch broadcast by the Ankara government announced to all the complete annihilation of the Greek army. Greek headquarters has been transferred to Chios, opposite the island of Mytilene.

The allies have published a proclamation in Smyrna urging the population to maintain order. It promises that the allies will secure guarantees for the protection of the minorities. The allied assurances, however, have not had any effect on the terrorized population. The Greek patriarch this morning photographed the arch bishop of Canterbury in London and Premier David Lloyd George to use their good offices in favor of the Christians in Anatolia.

The Greek losses, as far as it has been possible to ascertain them up to the present time, are total except for the third army corps, which is believed to be withdrawing from Bursa to Panderma, with all its material.

History is said never to have recorded so complete a disaster as that the Greeks have met with. It is asserted that Austria's defeat in the Caporetto during the World war is nothing compared with the debacle of the Greeks.

MOTORISTS LOSE IN GAS SHORTAGE SALE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(By A. P.)—Short measure of gasoline was estimated today by the National Motorists association to be costing purchasers $90,000,000 a year. This figure was based on an estimate that each of the ten million motorists of the United States buys two gallons of gasoline daily and that the average filling from a "short measure artist" amounts to 2 pints in each five gallons, resulting in a total daily loss to purchasers of 1,000,000 gallons valued at approximately $250,000.

The association announced its intention to combat the "short measure" selling.

FIRE CAUSES $75,000 LOSS.

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 10.—(By A. P.)—Fire practically destroyed the Winters Mercantile Co. here tonight, doing damage estimated at $75,000. A heavy rainfall aided firemen in extinguishing the flames, which threatened for a time to spread to adjoining buildings.

MRS. HARDING IS SLIGHTLY BETTER, FRIENDS BELIEVE

Passes Fairly Comfortable Day, Official Bulletin of Sawyer States.

9:30 o'clock tonight, and this was taken to mean that the patient's condition was looked upon as more hopeful.

Mrs. Edward B. McLean of Washington, a close friend of Mrs. Harding, on leaving the White House shortly before 10 o'clock said: "Mrs. Harding seems better. That is just what I am going home. She has quieted down and is going to sleep now. I think there is very good hope for her recovery. Dr. Finney has gone, and Dr. Mayo will stay at the White House through the night."

New News Improvement

Leaving about the same time, Sen. New of Indiana, also said Mrs. Harding seemed somewhat better.

Dr. Sawyer accompanied by Mrs. Sawyer left the White House for a short ride soon after the night state-ment was issued for the first time in more than a week. It was learned also that for the first time since Mrs. Harding's illness became critical, only one nurse was kept in the patient's room tonight.

PRAY FOR RECOVERY.

MARION, O., Sept. 10.—Prayers for the speedy recovery of Mrs. Warren G. Harding were offered at all of the churches in the home town of the president today. At the Trinity Baptist church the home church of Mr. and Mrs. Harding, a two minute session of prayer was offered after which a telegram of sympathy was sent to the president.

Dr. Thomas H. McFee, pastor of the Trinity church, who has been ill with a stroke of paralysis for months has been praying continually for an improvement in Mrs. Harding's condition. He also sent the president a telegram.

Hundreds of other telegrams have been sent from Marion and many long distance telephone inquiries have been made while scores of radio operators remained at their sets today "listening in" for the latest report.

Dr. George T. Harding, the president's father, received a detailed account of his daughter-in-law's condition this afternoon after which he said:

"From the latest reports of the symptomatology of Mrs. Harding, I am glad to notice she is improving. The extra rest that she had had will help. Florence has a good constitution. Whenever she was sick she always got well fast. After the operation 15 years ago she recovered remarkably well."

The telegram sent by the Trinity Baptist church read:

"The congregation of Trinity Baptist church this morning unitedly offered prayer for the speedy recovery of Mrs. Harding. We are deeply grieved at her illness and wish to assure you of our continued prayers and loving regard for you both."

right arm and complained of injuries to his back, when he was thrown to the pavement after walking in the path of an automobile driven by Mrs. Dudley Shively, E. Jefferson blvd., at Michigan st. and Wayne st. at 10 o'clock last night. According to Mr. Shively, who was riding with his wife, the machine was going east on Wayne at less than 15 miles an hour, when Brenner, walking south on the east side of Michigan st., his view of the approaching machine cut off by an umbrella which he was carrying, walked into the left front fender, throwing him to the ground.

The Shively car had come to a dead stop to allow a street car to pass and had just started again when the accident occurred. Mr. Shively said. The fact that the machine was being operated at such a slow speed is believed to have prevented more serious injuries to Brenner.

Brenner was placed in the Shively car and brought to the police station where he was attended by Dr. Paul Preston, who said the man's injuries were not expected to prove serious. Brenner was later removed to his home by Dr. Preston.

STREET CAR ACCIDENT AT FT. WAYNE FATAL

PORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 10.—Two persons were killed and three others injured so badly that little hope is entertained for their recovery, in accidents on Fort Wayne street Sunday. Mrs. Ellen Bishop, 67, formerly of Goshen was almost instantly killed when struck by a city street car while enroute to church this morning while Harold Farrow, a Canadian disabled war veteran, died in the hospital from injuries received when a machine in which he was riding crashed into a city street car. Mrs. Farrow, the wife of the victim and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Minchin, who accompanied the party were possibly fatally hurt.

SHE WON FOR U. S.

MISS CAMELLA SABIE, AND HER MOTHER, AND BELOW, MISS SABIE COMPETING IN THE LONG JUMP, WOMEN'S OLYMPIC MEET.

BY BOB DORMAN.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—"I am glad that my daughter Camella won, because of the honor it has brought her, of course, but, more than that, because she won for America."

That is the outstanding thought in the mind of Mrs. Angelica Sabie, mother of Camella Sabie, largest American team point winner in the Paris Women's Olympic meet, and champion woman hurdler of the world.

Mrs. Sabie is an Italian, living in a modest home in one of the poorer districts of Newark, hardly able to understand or speak English. Yet the fact that her daughter won for America means most to her.

"We knew that Camella could do it," she says, gesturing frequently, through an interpreter.

"Ever since she was a little girl, she has been what you call, a 'tomboy'."

"Climbing trees or fences, or running with the boys, was more fun for her than playing with dolls."

RUSS GRAIN EXPORT "WISE" ECONOMICS

Experts Plan to Ship It Out of Some Ports and Buy More Elsewhere.

BY HARRY L. ROGERS, (U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The American farmer will benefit by the decision of the Russian Soviet government to export part of the wheat crop just maturing, according to United States Government experts.

The feeling of indignation which followed announcement of the plan of the Moscow authorities to ship part of the new crop out of the country has disappeared, and officials here are inclined now to compliment the Russian experts upon the good judgment shown. The misunderstanding as to the real purpose of the Soviet authorities resulted from the action of the Soviet delegates at The Hague, who, through stupidity or otherwise, gave the impression there would be a surplus of wheat in Russia this year that the surplus would be exported.

NEW ATTORNEY JOINS DEFENSE IN 'BABY' CASE

and the microscopic examination of the tiny corpuscles, the appeal to physical likeness have all held their place in the other cases of this character. In practically all of these cases there has been a denial on the part of the mother of any faint upon the forehead of the child and the bitter legal battles have occurred over the vehement protests of the mother against any verdict which would draw criticism upon her virtue.

The case which will be heard by Justice Hoskins on Thursday for the first time in history brings a wife to court who directs her charge of common sin against a man not her husband and for the first time a husband will stand in court, not as accused of his wife but as a witness of the "other man."

No Heavy Penalty.

The charge itself carries with it no heavy penalty and in theory is based only to secure the support of a child. Verdicts upon a finding of guilt in such cases, seldom runs above the payment of $500 and is often less than this.

The trial before the Justice, civil in character, is governed by different rules of evidence than apply to the case of criminal charges and the amount of proof, under the decision, must be only a preponderance and not beyond a reasonable doubt.

Such was the comment of lawyers not connected with the case and they will be interested, from a legal angle, in the trial, which may be final in the case unless one of the parties appeals to a higher court.

Rumors were current Sunday that Mrs. Tiernan, realizing the difficult ordeal ahead, was inclined to end the case. There was also gossip to the effect that the case would be quietly settled before it was brought to an opening hearing.

Both were denied and the attitude of the parties to the case remained exactly the same as they existed a week ago when the affidavit was first filed.

"No Stopping of Case."

"There will be no stopping of the case until either an admission of guilt is made, openly and publicly or a judicial decision is rendered. It goes to that stage I have no fear of the outcome," was the statement of Mrs. Tiernan.

Those who seek for the reason behind the unusual action of this woman, the first in history to make a similar accusation, find it in her repeated assertions of undying hate, a hate which she herself ascribes to the scolding of her love and the attitude of Poulin in ignoring and refusing to speak to her after the child, who, she says, is the result of their common sin, was brought into the world.

Prof. Tiernan, the student of the theories of law, brought face to face with one of its complex questions in the shape of a personal tragedy, repeats his pledge to pursue the legal remedies to the limit, as long as those legal remedies take no direction of bringing a personal benefit to himself. He asks for no damages, threatens no action for alienation. He takes the detached attitude of attorney for his wife and the babe whose name is rendered in doubt by the action, supporting her in her charge. The future he rests upon the private agreement he has made as to a separation, the care of his other children and the years ahead which are filled only with question marks.

TOURISTS 'BLED' BY FRENCH GUIDE GAME

Americans 'Touched' With Every Turn in Capital of France.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Guides to Paris, who stand about on the sidewalks of the boulevards, soliciting from tourists the privilege of showing them Paris night life are reaping a rich harvest this summer from Americans. La Presse explains the percentages received by the guides for an evening's entertainment. Translated into dollars at the present rate of exchange an evening's tour of the city costs the tourist, earnings approximate:

Four dollars from the restaurant, commission for bringing the customers.

One dollar from the taxi driver.

Five dollars commission from the cafe with dancing, his percentage on the champagne.

Ten dollars commission from the Montmartre establishment, where the price for the customer was in proportion.

Farmer Is Victim of Wrong System, Patten Says; Sweeping Change Need

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—"The American farmer is being crushed by a labor system that permits part of the people to fix their own wages, while the agriculturalist's reward is fixed by competitive conditions."

This is the opinion of James A. Patten, multimillionaire wheat king of Chicago, given in an interview with NEA Service in which he discussed the fact that the farmer's dollar has shrunk to 71 per cent of its former value. The drop is due to the decreased price of farm commodities as compared to what he buys.

Patten for years has been a keen student of agricultural conditions, and his views are accepted as authoritative by students of the subject.

"I am asked where the farmer is headed for and what solution there is for his present situation," Patten said. "In reply I answer, the farmer is not headed anywhere—he has already arrived. His trouble is fundamental and it cannot be cured by local adjustments."

"Crops represent the wages of the farmer. He gets so many bushels of wheat for his year's labor. The exchange value of the wheat measured in terms of the products of other labor represents the farmer's reward."

"If his products will now exchange for only 71 per cent of what they exchanged for in 1912, as shown by government reports, then his wages have been reduced by that much."

"When economic factors have free play, the reward for one form of labor when measured in the products of another form of labor, will have an equitable relation to the amount of human effort involved in each production."

"The fundamental difficulty now is that the price of the farmer's product is fixed by free competition."

In the case of wheat, by world competition.

"On the other hand, the price of what the farmer has to buy is determined by the wages paid in its production, and these wages are not fixed in free competition, but are artificially established."

"The farmer, therefore, is the chief victim of a situation in which one class of labor is subsidized by wages maintained at an artificial level, and another class which has its wages determined by free competition."

"In the end, economic law will force a correction by raising men out of the low-paid occupations into subsidized occupations until food scarcely resurges the balance."

"Human society cannot be maintained permanently upon the basis of half competition and half subsidy. No legislation, tariff, financial or other, can reach out and cure this situation. There can be no cure until we give up our attempts at partial socialism and accord free play to economic law."
